

Holly McGrath, G.G.

HERTIAGE APPRAISER FOR THE NORTHEAST

Holly has worked in the jewelry industry since 1990. Her jewelry career began on the jeweler's bench, apprenticed to learn jewelry repair. Her interests led to studying traditional silversmithing, jewelry design, and fabrication, and eventually, gemology. She obtained her Graduate Gemologist's credentials from the Gemological Institute of America, the world's foremost authority on gemstone identification and grading.

Holly has worked in a variety of retail jewelry environments: third generation guild jewelers, designers, manufacturers and mass market retailers. Her membership in the National Association of Jewelry Appraisers and depth of experience in the jewelry industry gives her a diverse and thorough knowledge base from which to approach the complex and ever-evolving practice of appraising jewelry.
